DAIRY WINS THIRD CASE AS LAW IS RULED ULTRA VIRES

—64-Ounce Carton Stays

Peninsula housewives will be permitted to continue the purchase of milk in 64-ounce cartons following a court ruling this week. The court threw out a case charging that a local dairy was using illegal packaging on the grounds that the legislation was ultra vires.

Saanich dairy has won its third legal case within a month. On Tuesday Magistrate William Ostler ruled that the regulation regarding packaging of milk had exceeded the powers of the provincial legislature and is ultra vires.

The dismissal of the charge against Milky Way Dairy Ltd. was the sequel to over a year of controversy. The dairy had been packaging milk in 64-ounce cartons, based on the United States half-gallon. The provincial department of agriculture had introduced legislation through an order-in-council requiring that all packages must be in multiples of imperial measure.

UNDER A THREAT

The dairy had continued its use of the popular 64-ounce carton. Operating under the threat of prosecution for that period, the dairy was finally charged with selling milk in illegal containers.

The magistrate ruled that weights and measures are legislated by federal statute. A recent statute specifies that all standards must be Canadian. The Imperial measure coincides with the Canadian standard measure, but is still not the legal standard. If the British government were to change the Imperial measure for any reason and Canada was using it as a standard it would create confusion across the Dominion, he remarked.

OTHER CHARGES

The Saanich dairy, whose plant is located at Royal Oak, was charged in January with impeding an inspector of the department of agriculture. This charge failed to hold in court and a second charge was promptly levied of failing to undertake resazurin tests during November. This charge was also lost, although the department has filed notice of appeal against that dismissal.

No indication has been given by the government as to its plans to challenge the newest court ruling. Long a champion of the local

Commodore's Ball Slated February 24

Capital City Yacht Club, based at Clarke Bros. Boatworks at Shoal Harbor, will go gay on February 24. The annual Commodore's Ball will be held at the Crystal Gardens in Victoria when new flag officers will be presented with their flags.

About 250 participants are expected on Friday, Feb. 24, when Phil Salmon will be master of ceremonies.

The grand march will be staged at 11 p.m., after which flags will be presented to Commodore Leslie Cole, Vice-Commodore Warren Waterton, Rear Commodore Gordon Washington, Fleet Captain Ralph Fitcher and Fleet Surgeon Dr. D. R. Ross.

Past Commodore John C. K. Feilden will be presented with a brass plaque marking his services to the club during the past year.

Too Many Tories To Fit In Hall

There are too many Conservatives in Esquimalt-Saanich to permit of the staging of the nomination convention in the location originally chosen.

This week the federal association of the party has announced that the nominating convention will be held in the Lansdowne junior high school at the intersection of Lansdowne and Richmond Roads, adjacent to Victoria College.

The association now boasts 762 paid-up members.

Sponsors of the convention are looking to an attendance of close to 1,000 persons on Friday evening, Feb. 17.

The convention will name the candidate for election under the Conservative banner to Ottawa. It is anticipated that a by-election will be called shortly in the riding. Lieut.-Governor G. R. Pearkes, V.C., who resigned his seat in the house to assume his new duties, formerly held the Esquimalt-Saanich seat.

Seeking the nomination are Reeve George Chatterton, of Saanich; Gowan Guest, former executive assistant to the Prime Minister; John Keane, retired engineer and Cecil Holmes, former airman and previously party organizer here.

TWO-YEAR LEAVE

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Rourke with Billy and Debbie, have returned from a two-year leave in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and have taken up residence in their own home on Hampton Road after being house guests of Mr. Rourke's mother, Mrs. Wm. Rourke, Amelia Ave.

Big Response To Recreation Plan Points Up To Need Here

S. R. Gibbs, president of Sanscha, reports that the new recreation plan, worked out with the combined board of Y.M.-Y.W.C.A., is off to a good start.

With one week to go, registrations are pouring in. This advance poll, indicating a need for the services of the "Y" and Sanscha, is most encouraging to the committee concerned. A quick check on Monday showed that nearly 60 children have registered. With a few more days to go before the program gets under way, some of the classes may well be filled before Friday next.

If parents or children in the North Saanich area missed the announcement in last week's Review, on Friday, Feb. 17, Lloyd Henderson, senior instructor of the Y.M.C.A. with a number of leaders will start a free training program.

Activities get under way at 3.30 with the first hour devoted to boys 9 to 10 years, and girls 9, 10 and 11. From 4.30 to 5.30 there will be a class for boys 11 to 12 and girls, 12, 13 and 14.

BURNED OUT

Many Groups Hasten To Aid Of Stricken West Saanich Family

Stark despair faced a West Saanich mother of eight children on Friday morning when her home and contents were totally destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Julia Sam, wife of Sammy Sam, a truck driver, was engaged in washing clothes in the backyard when one of her children announced that the house was on fire. She rushed into the four-room cottage and found a wall enveloped in flames.

Picking up her 18-month-old Glen, she pushed the other children at home at the time outside and made vain efforts to extinguish the blaze with buckets of water drawn from a faucet several feet from the building.

When the task proved too formidable she ran for help and the Central Saanich Volunteer Fire Department was summoned.

The home and its contents were completely destroyed.

Fire Chief C. E. Rowles was critical of the construction of the building with its paperboard partitions and standard of wiring. He stated afterwards that there were a 25 and a 30 amp. fuse in a box designed to take two 20's.

Local groups promptly rallied to the help of the stricken family and on Saturday morning the Indian agency at Duncan, represented by Claude Jutras, assistant superintendent, presented Mrs. Sam with a cheque for $100 and blankets.

Rev. Fr. William Mudge, of the Catholic Rectory on West Saanich Road spent Saturday morning driving around collecting donations of furniture and utensils for the family.

Cubs And Scouts Mark Baden-Powell Week

Cubs, Scouts, Guides and Brownies will mark Baden-Powell Week next week in honor of the founder of the youth movement, Lord Robert Baden-Powell. Special events are planned during the week here and across the world. Here are depicted the members and leaders of the Sidney "A" Pack, who will be among the hundreds of thousands to recognize the significance of the week. Report on many local activities planned during the week is to be found on page two.—Photo by Dane Campbell.

Sidney Kinsmen Plan Big Auction Sale For Sidney

Going . . . going . . . gone! Theme song of the Kinsmen Club of Sidney for the next several weeks is destined to be closely allied to auctioneering as the club members prepare plans for a giant auction sale in Sidney on April 15.

The auction will be held at Sanscha Hall on April 15, when goods donated and offered on consignment will go under the hammer.

The club is already collecting for the event and has the promise of many small items in addition to several cars offered on consignment by a Victoria dealer.

Proceeds of the auction will be devoted to club projects, notably the cost of installing a new central heating plant in the armories building at Patricia Bay Airport for the Sidney Air Cadet Squadron, which is sponsored by the club.

The preparations for the sale will be carried out by club members but the auctioneer will be a professional. He is Roy Ashworth, general manager of Maynard's Ltd., in Victoria. Mr. Ashworth, who has a second claim to distinction in the luxurious moustache he wears, has volunteered his services for the sale as well as offering advice to the club during the preparations.

The sale is aimed at providing a wide variety of usable material and all donations will be gratefully accepted. Donors may leave articles for the sale at Beacon Motors in Sidney or they may communicate with Gary Flint at GR 5-1922 during the working day and GR 5-2393 in the evening, to arrange for its collection.

AT SIDNEY

Theatre Operator Succumbs

Former proprietor of the Sidney Gem Theatre, Rudolph Cornelius Maartman, late residence 9774 Third St., passed away on Sunday, Feb. 12, at Rest Haven Hospital. Born in Fargo, North Dakota, 75 years ago, the late Mr. Maartman was a resident of Sidney for the past 15 years.

A veteran of two great wars, World War I and World War II, the deceased was a member of the Saanich Peninsula Branch No. 37, Royal Canadian Legion, B.E.S.I. He also was a past master of the Duck Lake, Sask., Masonic Lodge, A.F. and A.M., S.R.

Left to mourn are his wife, Marjorie, at home; his son, Robert, Sidney; his daughter, Eunice, Mrs. G. V. O'Byrne, Fairly Glen, Sask.; seven grandsons: two brothers, S. G. Maartman, Fairmont, B.C. and Ben Maartman, North Vancouver, and his sister, Lena Daley, Duncan.

Last rites were observed under the auspices of Sidney Masonic Lodge No. 143, A.F. and A.M. on Tuesday, Feb. 14, with Rev. C. H. Whitmore officiating. Sands Funeral Chapel of Roses, Sidney, was in charge of arrangements. Cremation followed the funeral service.

Demands On Food Stall Still Heavy

The Surplus Food Stall will be in operation on Saturday next, Feb. 18.

It appears likely that calls on the stall will be heavy as there is still plenty of unemployment. Some are now digging root vegetables that have been in the ground all winter. Any that can be spared would be welcomed; also any other food or vegetables or cash donations.

Honors may communicate with Mrs. E. E. Harper, 5695 Patricia Bay Highway, phone GR 4-1750.

RED-FACED DEPARTMENT TO RENAME SEVERAL ROADS

Old Patricia Bay Highway, lying between Sterne's Garage on the new highway and the junction of Wains Cross Road and the new highway, is to be named Blue Heron Road. The name has been taken from the bay of that name around which the road curves. It was suggested by a resident of the old highway.

The change was originally announced last week by the department of highways. The announcement at that time was misleading in its wording and a red-faced department has corrected its error this week.

A further change in names has been made by the department following the concern expressed by officials of the Sidney and North Saanich Fire Department. The road formerly known as McDonald Road, running off Blue Heron Road at right angles, is to be named Brackman Road.

AVOID CONFUSION

This second name change will avoid confusion with the thoroughfare through McDonald Park. Although bearing no official title, this park road has been known as McDonald Park Road. The former

Water Link Made

—For Sidney

Sidney Waterworks District is linked directly with the Elk Lake water system. On Tuesday a connection was made between the pipeline connecting Elk Lake and Swartz Bay and the line running between McTavish Road and Sidney.

Beneath a pouring rain C. D. T. Whitehouse, of Whitehouse Machine Shop in Sidney, welded the final coupling.

The linking of the two water systems marks the end of heavy restrictions of water during the dry summer seasons. In future the Sidney Waterworks District will draw water from the Elk Lake system owned by Central Saanich municipality to augment its own supplies.

Under normal conditions the new connection will only be used to supply the Sidney area in the case of drought or emergency. During the wet season the waterworks district is adequately supplied with water.

The connection has been made following long negotiations between Sidney and the owners of the Elk Lake system. Formerly owned by the department of transport, the system proved to be elusive when Sidney sought water last year. The department of transport refused to supply water despite the near drought here. Central Saanich was unable to do so because the system had not been handed over by the government.

First gesture made by Central Saanich upon acquiring the system was to guarantee a supply to Sidney to augment its wells. Provision now exists to take advantage of the promise.

Barclay, Deep Cove P.T.A.; and Miss Jean Christie, North Sidney Property Owners' Association.

ON LOWER GANGES ROAD

Site Is Purchased For New Automatic Ganges Exchange

Property on Lower Ganges Road on Salt Spring Island has been purchased by the B.C. Telephone Co. as the site for a future automatic exchange building.

The property is on the east side of the road just south of the Crofton Road junction, with frontage of 100 feet and a depth of 150 feet.

The company has not announced any date for start of construction. The present manual service exchange has about 770 telephones on the island.

Scheduled to begin in about two months is a $32,000 project of placing additional lines throughout the exchange to reduce the number of subscribers on multi-party lines and to allow future telephone growth. The work will include improved facilities at Fulford Harbor and Vesuvius Bay, 3,000-FOOT CABLE.

Cable will be placed on the Fulford-Ganges Road between Borgoyne Bay Road and Isabella Point Road, between Beddis Road and Cranberry Road, and from the Government wharf for about 3,000 feet. Cable also will be located on Lower Ganges Road between Hereford Ave. and Canal Road.

Other facilities will improve service on Beaver Point Road, Borgoyne Bay Road, Isabella Point Road, Cusheon Lake Road, North End Road and Parmlinter Road.

CHURCH PARADES

SCOUTS AND GUIDES TO MARK "B.P." WEEK

One quarter of a million boys and their leaders, and an equal number of girls and leaders will next week take part in a nation-wide observance of Baden-Powell Week.

"B.P." Week, as it is known to the boys, and "Thinking Week" to the girls, is held annually to commemorate the founding of the Guide and Scout movements by Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, whose birthdays both fell on February 22.

This special week is set aside to remind the public and in particular the parents of youth, just what is being done by this great world-wide movement and of its high aims and objects.

Brownies, Guides, Cubs and Scouts in most districts are planning events in celebration of this week. Church parades, banquets, parent nights, and regular meetings to which the public are invited, are being held. Most groups are pleased to have interested visitors at any time, and a special invitation is being extended this week.

CHURCH PARADE

In Brentwood, a church parade will be held on February 19, at the Brentwood Memorial Church at 11:30 a.m. A father-and-son banquet is planned for Friday, Feb. 24, and the Cub pack, under Akela Mrs. Stansfield will hold their regular meeting on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. when they will welcome visitors.

Brentwood will also be host at a Sixers' Pow Wow on February 23, when all Sixers and their leaders in the Tsartlip district will meet.

At Saanichton, Akela Mrs. D. Rayburn and her Cub pack meet on Monday at 6:30 and visitors will be welcome. Their father and son banquet will be held on Saturday, Feb. 18, when a new chum will be welcomed into the pack and one will go up to Scouts.

In Deep Cove, A pack, under R. McLennan, meets on Friday at 7 p.m. and B pack, with M. McCutcheon, meet Wednesday at 6:15. Deep Cove Brownies and Guides will join with the Cubs and Scouts for their church parade at St. John's United Church on February 26 at 10 a.m.

In Sidney, the Brownies will hold their Thinking Day ceremony on February 21 at 3:30 p.m., when the girls light candles as they remember the Brownies in all countries of the world. All parents are invited to visit this meeting at which an enrolment will take place with "Brown Owl" Mrs. O. Thomas in charge.

THINKING DAY

The newly re-formed First Sidney Company of Guides under Mrs. K. Cantwell will hold their regular meeting on Thursday afternoon from 4 to 5 p.m. and visitors will be welcome to watch their Thinking Day ceremony.

Sidney B pack Cubs, meeting on Monday at 6:15 p.m., will hold a Parents' Night to which all are urged to come. Akela Nora Cook has planned a regular meeting in which parents may participate.

A Cub Pack, under Akela Gordon Bryson will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday at 6:30 and visitors will be welcome.

Sidney Scout troop under new leader T. Sharock, will also hold their regular meeting on Thursday at 7 p.m.

All Sidney groups will take part in the joint church parade to be held on "B.P. Sunday", Feb. 26, at St. Paul's United Church at 2:30 p.m.

Large Group Of Guides Take Part In Sidney Ceremonies

Exceptionally large number of parents was present to watch the annual "Fly Up" ceremonies last week when 14 Brownies went on to become Girl Guides.

Mrs. O. Thomas, Brown Owl of the Sidney Brownies, wished the girls well as they flew up. The new Guides were received by Mrs. K. Cantwell, captain of the Sidney Guide company and the few remaining Sidney Guides augmented by Girl Guides from Deep Cove who formed up to welcome the former Brownies.

"Golden Hands", the highest award to be given to Brownies, were presented by Divisional Commissioner Mrs. J. McKeivitt as the following girls climbed the golden stairs to receive their awards: Margaret Storey, Barbara Currie, Robyn Dawson, Brenda Locke, Norma Russell, Joleen Callard, Joan Alexander, Lynn Hannay, Bonny Eckert, Patricia Buxton, Karen Hamilton, Lynn Wood and Janet Anderson.

These Brownies, with the exception of Margaret Storey, and the addition of Trudy Gokiert and Patricia Spooner received their wings from District Commissioner Mrs. G. F. Gilbert as they flew up to Guides. They will be the nucleus of the new first Sidney Company which has recently been formed.

Mrs. Thomas, who has a large group of Brownies, is assisted in her work by Tawny Owl, Miss Jean Christie, Snowy Owl, Mrs. H. Currie, and Golden Owl, Mrs. A. Hopkins.

Following the ceremonies, refreshments were served by the Guides and Brownies, and a brief meeting of the Guide and Brownie Mothers' Association was held. Reports showed that contributions of money by the Sidney groups and assistance in the building by the fathers, have helped improve the Kingswood camping grounds at Elk Lake to the point where they can now be used by Guides and Brownies for camps, meetings and various types of outdoor activities.

AT SIDNEY SCHOOL

TONY EMERY TO BE SPEAKER AT JOINT P.T.A. MEETING

Education is one of the most prominent current controversies and "Some Thoughts on Education", is the topic chosen by Professor Tony Emery for his talk in Sidney on Tuesday, Feb. 21.

Professor Emery is assistant professor of history at Victoria University. He was born and educated in England, where he also taught at a grammar school before coming to Victoria eight years ago. Since then he has taught at private schools, junior high schools, and, for the past four years, at Victoria University. He is well acquainted with the problems of education, and is in wide demand as a speaker.

Sponsored by the Sidney P.T.A., this will be the third annual joint meeting of local Parent-Teacher Associations, several of which will be holding their regular monthly meetings in Sidney classrooms at 8 p.m.

Two Sisters

Among those on the program of the students' recital sponsored by the Registered Music Teachers' Association of Victoria on Friday, Feb. 3, were Jo-Anne Forrest who played two piano solos, and her sister, Margaret Forrest, winner last year of $50 awarded by the Saanich Peninsula Arts Centre for singing, who sang two songs.

Younger Members Extolled By Toastmistress Speaker

Three teenage members are an inspiration to the club, avowed Mrs. E. A. Steeves in her general evaluation of the recent meeting of the Madrona Toastmistress Club.

One of these young members, Miss Shirley Kerr, was voted the award for best performance of the evening. Shirley's six-minute speech was entitled "Fun to Live".

Another young member, Miss Judy Petherbridge, as table topic mistress chose as her subject, "Simple Things Can Become Complicated".

In her first speech, new member Miss Bernice Peterson described some of the highlights of her 17 years.

Toastmistress of the evening, Mrs. C. Levar chose "Simple Things" as her theme, and her expert introductions and interjections of humor provided a most enjoyable program.

Speeches included a prepared speech by Mrs. S. Fone and extemporaneous speeches by Mrs. W. Kynaston, Miss S. Kerr and Miss Alida Newman. The latter's speech "Got Free" won for her the award as the most improved speaker.

COMPETITION

Recent council meeting held in Victoria was reported upon by club representative, Mrs. A. W. Cool. Four members, Mesdames Levar, Steeves, Kynaston and Newman will

Guest Speaker For Art Club

Saanich Peninsula Art Centre held its first meeting for the new year at the Sidney Hotel on Monday evening, Feb. 6. President Mrs. F. J. Eves was in the chair.

After a short business meeting the members and their friends were entertained by a most interesting talk on painting in various media by Mrs. Desiree Schonland, an instructor at the Victoria Art Gallery.

To illustrate her talk, Mrs. Schonland had selected color slides to represent each medium, i.e. water color, oil, black ink, as well as lithographs and collages. The speaker explained how the artist could achieve some very striking effects by combining more than one medium, such as wax and water colors or oils, or a collage combined with oil paint.

She urged her listeners to experiment with the different ways of creating a picture for excitement and new interest. Of particular interest was experimenting with black ink

Guide Notes

THINKING DAY, 1961

February 22 is a very important day in guiding and scouting. It is the birthday of the founder, the late Lord Baden-Powell. His wife, Lady Baden-Powell, who is our world chief Guide, was born on the same day.

So February 22 is set aside as our "Thinking Day" all over the world. And on that day we think and pray for all the other members of the Guide family in the world—especially those who may be living through difficult times in their various countries. Also the Brownies and Guides usually give a special contribution to the world friendship fund. This money is used to help Guides visit other countries and so promote world friendship.

Companies and packs usually have ceremonies that week and a special church service. At these ceremonies, we think of all other Guides and ask God to help us and every Guide in all corners of the world to remember again how sacred is the promise we have made, and so to practice our great ideals in our daily lives. That His glory may shine from sea to sea throughout the world and that we may spread happiness wherever we go.

Nun Speaks Warmly Of Indian Activities To Royal Oak W.I.

By DORIS LEECHAM HOBBS

Guest speaker at the February meeting of the Royal Oak Women's Institute was Sister Noel, principal of the Tsartlip school at Brentwood, who gave a most illuminating talk on subjects connected with her school, the homes of the Indians on the reserve, the transportation to and from the schools, the problems of the needy, and, in answer to questions put by the W.I. members, how such a body as the institute could help their sisters of the Indian Homemakers' Club.

"A sensitive and understanding approach" was needed, said Sister Noel.

She had great praise for the work accomplished by the Indian Department with headquarters at Duncan, in giving aid with grocery orders and medical care when required.

Sister Noel gave interesting statistics of the number of children, boys and girls, who were attending school to at least grade 8 in contrast to the older generation whose schooling stopped at grade 4.

Many individual Indians had worked hard and were able to hold down well paying white collar jobs after their years at high school and college. Many, alas, just drifted into the ranks of casual labor, she noted.

IMPROVEMENT
"As the position (and education) of the women improves, so will the homes reach a higher level of comfort," said the speaker.

Their general temperament tended to "do it sometime"—there was no feeling for the value of foresight and thrift, she added. This was a legacy from the easy life of their ancestors.

Residential schools could keep hold of the children longer, and help them prepare their homework, almost an impossibility in their present overcrowded family life.

Now, water is laid on to all the reserves and electric light too, said the nun. Houses are much improved. The movement to acquire equal rights meant, usually, the right to liquor, with its consequent problems.

Among the reserves Sister Noel said, the sole handicraft was knitting sweaters for sale. No basket-making was done.

Welcomed by Mrs. Heywood, the president, and introduced by Mrs. Catherine Clark, Sister Noel was warmly thanked by the members, who plied her with many questions.

Suitable clothing donated by members is asked for the March 8 meeting as the institute has "adopted" an Indian family near Long Beach, who need help.

At that meeting some form of help will be offered to the Indian Homemakers' Club through Sister Noel, who extended a warm invitation to visit her lovely new government school at Brentwood and see her children at work and play.

Small Fry Enjoy Valentine Party In Aid Of Children

Brentwood Women's Institute had a most successful Valentine costume party in the W.I. hall last Friday evening. All proceeds are in aid of the Queen Alexandra Salarium and the Children's Hospital in Vancouver, both of which were founded by the Women's Institutes of B.C.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the party was the W.I. executive with the president, Mrs. E. G. Woodward, as general convener and M.C. All the members were assisting. Others whose help was much appreciated were M. O. Goodmanson at the piano, Wm. Fortune at the door and the judges, Mesdames F. Rowe, H. Goodwin and Holdsworth.

The hall was decorated for the occasion in the Valentine motif. The children were beautifully costumed, some representing nursery rhymes or old fashioned ladies, some original and others funny, making it very hard for the judges to choose winners. The judging was done after the grand march with the children in age groups.

Winners in the various groups were: first group, children under five years, Jacqueline Burwood and Shelly Blackburn; six years, Catherine Morrison and Rickie Bunniss; seven years, Catherine Guellette, Laurie Schotfield, Andrew Isaac and David Blackburn; eight years, Gayle Kirk, Carol Robinson, Randy Benn and Brian Vandervort; nine years, Dianne Bean, Sharon Bunniss, June Wenden and Ed Schotfield.

Winners of the specials were: 1. Sharon Buckford; 2. Allison Isaac; 3. Barbara Brown.

PERFORMING DOGS
Special attraction of the party was Most youngsters think there are only three seasons in the year... baseball, football and basketball.

the Heatherbelle Troupe of Performing Dolls, a complimentary performance to aid children, by Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Mellish, Heatherbelle Kennels, Royal Oak. The 20 dogs in the troupe were all in costume and performed many clever tricks, jumping through illuminated hoops, riding tricycles and scooters, pushing buggies and many other acts, not only bringing delight to the children but laughs and applause from the parents and friends.

At the end of the very enjoyable evening refreshments were served by the W.I. members.

The president expressed thanks from all present to Mr. and Mrs. Mellish and all who had helped to make this annual party a big success.

If you want to know what's behind the headlines, ask any housewife. She'll tell you it's her husband, especially at the breakfast table.

Eunice is a machine operator in the Sidney B of M and is responsible for posting customers' accounts. She joined the Bank in 1959 on graduation from North Saanich High School.

Eunice is well known throughout the district, having reigned as Sidney Queen in 1959. As Queen, Eunice travelled extensively in B.C., dispensing regal charm.

Besides her banking career, Eunice also carries on an active life as a "Sunday painter" and some-time bowler. She says she just paints for pleasure, and has no desire to exhibit her work publicly. In a more athletic field, she bowls as spare for the Sidney team.

With such versatile talents, it's not hard to understand why Eunice is a popular "banker".

POSTAL CHARGES

POST Office department has announced plans to bring Royal Oak into the field of Victoria and to establish a four-cent mailing rate as from the time of this modification. The decision follows a plea by many residents of the area served by the Royal Oak Post Office, although the groups involved had not anticipated losing their identity to the city in order to achieve their ends.

It is many years since the post office department raised the postal charge on a normal letter from four to five cents. It followed the decision to dispense with duty on cheques. The loss of revenue incurred by the loss of chequing duties was made up by increasing the postal rate generally.

Today, while none of us pays a duty on cheques only some of us pay the additional one cent on letters. This alternative rate is difficult to justify in view of the fact that the major benefit is enjoyed by those resident within the larger cities of the Dominion, while the greater loss is borne by those outside the cities who are constantly paying fines for receiving mail inadequately stamped.

The culmination of this inequity of rates is found in the areas such as Saanich Peninsula, where those living half-way along the road pay four cents and the remainder pay five cents. It is not only manifestly unfair, it is like a scene from a pantomime.

THOSE ROAD NAMES

AFTER some lapse of time the provincial highway authorities have announced the names of a number of roads in the North Saanich area. The titles chosen were those suggested by a number of local residents through the columns of The Review.

Announcement of the names concludes a long delay of uncertainty for many residents of the community and for those operating emergency services here.

Let us, in company with the highways department, make a resolution somewhat late in the new year. Let us resolve that in the future no more road names will be changed for any but good and sound reasons. The frivolous objection on the part of a government department, or of any other group, to a specific name must not be sufficient reason to have it changed.

Every change wrought in the area is a further step towards disaster in the event of emergency.

THEY DESERVE GREAT CREDIT

ONCE a year Cubs, Scouts, Guides and Brownies take time out from their activities to pay tribute to the couple who established the Boy Scout movement as a world-wide organization for the benefit of youngsters. Lord Robert Baden-Powell and Lady Baden-Powell.

It is many years since the movement was visualized by Baden-Powell and not even he had dreamed that a venture launched in a very small way was destined to operate in every country of the free world.

The movement is unassailable. There is no logical individual who could offer a genuine criticism of the Boy Scout movement or of the syllabus of training contained within its operation.

That is the negative approach. Thousands, perhaps millions, of youngsters have derived a material benefit from the training and discipline which is offered by Scout activities. They have been trained in taking care of themselves and of others. They have learned the value of personal integrity, self-discipline and honesty. They have, indeed, gained an insight to all those factors which go into the making of character and which have been gradually eliminated from the realm of growing up.

There is one other aspect of these movements which must always be considered. It is the men and women who have, through the years, devoted hours of their time to leadership of the Scout and Guide groups. They earn no money and they seek none. In many instances they earn little recognition. In many communities parents tend to look on scouting as a convenient method of getting rid of a youthful nuisance for a time.

The debt of society to the leaders of Scout and Guide troops will never be adequately repaid. The only reward these people gain is the knowledge that they have in a small way contributed to the future. They deserve great credit.

A COMMUNITY SERVICE

DEMAND in the Sidney and North Saanich area for an organized recreation program was never so clearly evidenced as by the response to the classes sponsored jointly by Sanscha and the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. The classes offered for ladies and those to commence shortly for youngsters have met with a response far in excess of any anticipated.

The response indicates that not only does the community need the facilities of the community hall, but that the hall directors are up on their toes to employ the hall for the utmost benefit to the community.

Sanscha is undoubtedly filling its basic function and will gain the support of the district for so doing.

Letters To The Editor

P.T.A. RISES HIGHER

Waldron Greene's recent articles make one wonder: why kick against the pricks? The P.T.A. is in the saddle, as is the C.B.C., which is intent on giving us "culture" even if it kills us. The most cultured man I knew, who so far as I could judge was the best educated, did not go to school. He and his elder brother—who afterwards "amounted to something"—had a tutor. He couldn't have absorbed much learning before going to sea at 15. Being older than I when first we knew each other 40 years ago, going to sea meant before the mast.

His second voyage from Australia to this continent resulted in lost gear and 100 days on short rations. Eventually they made the Columbia in early June. Among other things I knew him as a gourmet, but more than once he told me nothing ever tasted as good as the wild strawberries along the Columbia River. As for the Pacific Northwest, it was always the most wonderful place on earth.

Now that he is gone, I can with safety call him one of the blessed spirits. If I may be permitted to say so, I picture him in heaven chuckling like hell.

His last aim in life as concerned himself was getting me to see how Bach and Mozart were better composers than Beethoven. The chuckles emanating from my now conceding a point as regards Mozart, W. J. Turner Shaw and my friend put Mozart first, but if I say Beethoven, Beethoven it is for me. Recently I found an old critique by Shaw of a Mozart concert.

I would have liked to quote and to have heard the hearty laugh: followed by a "so what?"

Shaw—whom we both admired—speaking of music said "I wish he'd

ACROSS MY DESK

REPORT FROM VICTORIA

by

JOHN D. T. TISDALE, M.L.A.

The debate on the Speech from the Throne is drawing to a close and by February 10 the budget will be brought down.

J. D. Tisdale

I am beginning this report Thursday morning, the minister of highways will wind up the debate for the government this afternoon. So far, the opposition have directed their attention to debating what happened in the last election. This kind of debate is about as inspiring as reading last week's newspaper. It is a needless waste of time and effort and of taxpayers' money, trying to change history by crying over the past. M.L.A. Bert Price summed it up by saying: "We have heard a lot about the last election—it is gone—let us look ahead."

Elections used to be a means of clearing the air for a government to proceed with the administration and affairs of the people, but now it appears that the opposition is determined to carry the election campaign into the legislature and through the life of the parliament.

LOW AVERAGE

The minister of public works, Mr. Chant, gave a good account of the activity of his department in keeping costs down and overages for extras. He stated that where it was common practice to have overages of as much as eight per cent to 10 per cent during the completion of a project, his department has been experiencing remarkable success in reducing this margin to as low as four per cent average. He gave as an example the recent new building on the Victoria University grounds on which extras were under two per cent.

He further stated that requirements for plans and draughting, surveys, etc., placed upon his department by other departments for government buildings, would necessitate 30,000 man hours, and, you can multiply that by three to include all the projects that will be required in the next two years.

SLOW DOWN

In respect to the unemployment problem, Mr. Chant accused the opposition the enckle and come to the "osser". My point exactly. Anyway I am glad to make my point posthumously. Forgive my being garrulous; semi-senile dementia.

About this education. Going back to my young days, I was just the same as other children, never wanted to go to school. I had to do so, but it was an imposition. It seems to me this discipline was not only the start of, but the best part of our education. We had to learn to fit in. Is education anything but?

Any further formula for our schools is covered by curriculum of reading, writing and figuring; as a stimulus to what culture we may partake of, include geography and a little astronomy. Vocational training is what most of us need. Education as such is for the comparative few; though none need be deprived.

I recently quoted "The measure of the intelligence of the rest of us is shown in how we treat our geniuses". In art as well as in science. Some of the culture may then rub off on us. "You can lead a horse to water, but cannot make it drink." I—don't forget the typical I—after leaving school, promptly forgot all or most of what I had learned, and thought to never again see a textbook. As for teachers as such (2), I know I shall be damned for saying there is no such thing as a dedicated teacher. Knowing this is not quite true, nevertheless that is what is being said. Teachers are to be not overly blamed; being like the rest of us, doing as little as we can get away with for as much as we can get.

However, work has to be done to obtain the many things needed. Can it be managed we let anyone get away with doing less than his or her fair share? Sure! That's the kind of life we have chosen up to now. There is nothing sacred about Miller 553) managed to make the Banshees wait on two occasions. G. Wooley topped the Banshees with a total of 566.

COMMERCIAL

Section A came up with three triple-wins on Wednesday and another Commercial League player joined the ranks of the "300 Club". Cpl. Wm. Stanton of the Sidney De-cial, such as education, social services, trap lines, hospital insurance, game department and labor. It is presently Canadian policy," he said, "that confines the Indian where he is, but it is also Canadian policy that will have to bring him out. It is also the Indian that will have to assist in this and we will have to meet them over half-way if we are going to get out of our present conditions."

"The Indian is not in need of charity so much as he is in need of release from his present environment."

I could not help but think this was not C.C.F. policy or Socialism... but the opposite!

...and he shall tell these what thou oughtest to do."—Acts 10:6. Little children are easier to work with than adults. They are far more ready to listen to your words and do as directed for they realize that they don't know everything and they desire to learn. But there comes a time when they believe that they now know all there is to know and then try and tell them what they should do and you have a different problem.

John. Adults seem to resent being told what they must do and yet this is useful.

Here Cornelius is told to go and find Peter who will be able to tell him what he needs to know. Cornelius wanted desperately to please God and yet from his human sources of knowledge he could find no help. Jesus had told Nicodemus he had to be born again. This is what Cornelius needed before he could please God. This is what you need also before you can please God.

Cornelius had worked at charity, given alms, prayed but had never acknowledged his sin and claimed Christ's death to atone for his sin. When he heard the message of salvation through the blood, he believed that message, accepted Christ's death as for himself, and Christ's way of life for his way and was thereby born again. This is what you must do if you would please God? Will you? Please contact Pastor Westcott if you wish further help.

The subjects of four new postage stamps to be issued during the first six months of 1961 have been announced by the postmaster general, the Hon. William Hamilton. All will be of the five-cent denomination.

The first issue, a large-size stamp in red and green, released on February 8, is a tribute to the development of Canada's northland and the increasing activity there in recent years.

On March 10, a special five-cent stamp will be issued to commemorate the centennial of the birth of Emily Pauline Johnson, Indian poetess. According to most authorities, Miss Johnson, a Mohawk, was born on March 10, 1861, at "Chiefswood" on the Six Nations Indian Reservation in Ontario. She died on March 7, 1913, at Vancouver after having made a unique contribution to Canadian letters.

In keeping with tradition, the late Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, a former Prime Minister of Canada, will be remembered in a special issue which will be released on April 19, Mr. Meighen served two terms as prime minister from July 10, 1920 to December 29, 1921 and from June 19, 1926 to September 25, 1926. Mr. Meighen died at Toronto on August 6, 1960.

The 10th anniversary of the Colombo Plan will be marked by a special stamp to be issued on June 28, in time for the official Colombo Plan anniversary to be celebrated

On the charge of being intoxicated off the reserve the following were each fined $15 plus costs: Romaine James, Sandy Pelky and Manson Isaac Pelky, all of Sidney.

Charged with careless driving a fine of $20 plus costs was imposed on Jerry Paul Chester, Victoria.

RUNAWAYS STEAL BOATS

Three juveniles from Langford who stole and wrecked a 15½-foot runabout boat from Canoe Cove on Sunday afternoon and who were finally picked up by the M.V. Tsawwassen from a stolen 30-foot cabin cruiser drifting in the strait were charged with theft of property over $50 in Sidney police court on Tuesday, Feb. 14.

The three boys stole the outboard motor boat from Canoe Cove at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Their journey to Vancouver seemed to be short-lived when they were unable to keep their small craft off the rocky beach on Moresby Island.

Stranded at first they finally discovered a 30-foot cruiser and put to sea again. Another mishap occurred, however, when the bowline tangled in the propeller, fouling the engine.

The cruiser bounced and drifted helplessly for several hours in the heavy swell. Shortly before 10 p.m. the government ferry M.V. Tsawwassen, on her last trip back to Vancouver, picked up the young adventurers. The R.C.M.P. boat "Sidney," stationed at Ganges on Salt Spring Island, recovered the cruiser and the wrecked runabout was subsequently found washed up at Curteis Point.

The three juveniles were referred from the Richmond R.C.M.P. to the Sidney detachment. They admitted the offense and were remanded until February 22 for sentence.

PARTY LINE

Country Life

By MERIDA A. CUMMINGS.

Correct me if I'm wrong — I thought the advantage of living in the country was to see, feel and enjoy the beauties of nature. To see the wild pheasants in the fields along with grouse, quail and deer. Lambs romping with their little friends. Getting acquainted with the young calves and baby pigs.

Seeing with your own eyes family life among the animals and birds, investigating the woods and streams. It does mean the participation of parents in the answering of questions and sharing their knowledge with the children. But from what I can see and gather organized sports and recreations is what is wanted for all children.

It does keep the children out from underfoot and leaves mother and father free for all their own interests.

If that is what is wanted, people should go back to the cities where there is everything—swimming pools on every playground, plus organized sports and night classes of every sort—regimentation personified.

For me, I'll take the drawbacks of the country and leave the advantages to the city folk. But there are a certain number of people that want country living, low taxes and every advantage of the city. Will they ever learn that you can't have both?

VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADE ATTENDS 20 ALARMS

—Fire Loss, $13,200

At the first annual meeting of the Salt Spring Island Fire Protection District, W. H. Bradley was re-elected for a three-year term and A. House was elected for a three-year term as trustee.

According to the report submitted by Fire Chief Fred Donaghy, 1,450 man hours have been put in by the members of the volunteer fire brigade in practice sessions. Courses in organization, ladder work, hose work, rope, rescue and salvage practices were conducted during the year. Several films on loan from the fire marshal's office were shown. A special six-week course, given by the fire marshal's office was attended by all the firemen.

The fire chief attended a week-long college at Campbell River, where lectures and demonstrations of communications systems, evacuation of hospitals and many phases of fire-fighting procedures were held. During the 11 months the fire department responded to 20 alarms for a total of 170 man hours. There were eight chimney fires, five brush fires, two house fires, one farm machinery, one oil stove, one boat and one furniture fire.

Of the approximate value of $120,000 involved in the fires a loss of approximately $13,200 was recorded in two fires.

Nine women attended the class in rifle shooting held at the Rod and Gun Club rifle range, Ganges, on Wednesday. Several beginners showed excellent promise, and some of the more experienced will be shooting for their Dominion marksmanship pins soon.

A women's team is the ultimate aim of these classes.

They will be held at 1.30 on Wednesday afternoons. Everyone is sharpening up for the Valentine shoot which will be held on Sunday, Feb. 19, at 12 noon. A rifle is available for those who have no gun.

Sought By Police

PERCY MOGGEY

The following named person has been added to the list of Canada's most wanted criminals by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Percy Moggey alias James O'Brien alias George Hamilton. Age: 57 years. Born: Portage la Prairie, Man. on September 20, 1904. Nationality: Canadian. Hair: grey, quite bald. Height: 5'7". Weight: 165 lbs. Scar on left side of nose. Little finger on right hand crooked. Bullet wound scar on right knee.

Moggey is wanted by the R.C.M.P., Winnipeg, Man., on a charge of escaping lawful custody from the Manitoba Penitentiary.

Moggey has several convictions for "Violence" and has been charged with "Possession of a Revolver". Therefore, it is reasonable to assume he may now be armed. He is known to have threatened the life of the policeman who was instrumental in his last arrest.

The attached photograph was taken in 1957. His hairline is reported to have receded much further than is shown in this photograph.

Any information available which may assist in Moggey's apprehension should be given to any R.C.M.P. Police office, or nearest municipal police department.

Efficient Fish

By BILL MYRING

No creatures are such masters of their natural element as fish, not even birds, with their apparently effortless soaring and gliding.

A fish can remain motionless for as long as it likes, it can move forwards or backwards an imperceptible degree, it can spurt forward from scratch at high speed, it can go up or down with supreme ease.

Furthermore, the shape of a fish is ideal for swift, sinuous movement and its under-water streamlining is perfect, as man recognizes when he makes submarines and torpedoes.

The simple "jet-propulsion" with streams of water ejected swiftly backwards through the gills, the moulded body shape with its bullet-shaped head, the smooth-surfaced, inset eyes, the scales and the tapering rear quarters are all admirably suited to speedy progress through the water.

EARTH'S MOST POWERFUL CREATURE

That's right, Appearance to the contrary, man is the most powerful creature on the face of the earth.

Man—of all creatures—put his brain to work instead of his muscles, shaping energy sources to his own use and betterment.

In Canada we've put our energy sources to work so well we enjoy one of the world's highest standards of living. Take oil for example. Because it has been made available at reasonable prices wherever it is needed, Canadians use more than 1,000,000 gallons an hour. And speaking of reasonable prices, Imperial Oil gets less for a gallon of gasoline today than it did ten years ago.

JOHN STEELE

The Royal London Wax Museum will open in Victoria in the spring. This is to be a permanent exhibit of many historic figures, sculptured in life-like wax, and authentically costumed in rich fabrics, set against the correct backgrounds of their eras. The lighting of these figures promises to be fabulous. Manager John Steele chose Victoria as the logical site for the exhibit, for the old world atmosphere of Victoria makes an ideal setting for such a project, he believes.

"Through the recent publicity in the newspapers, I have received many parcels of baby clothes and other things and many are from anonymous friends—so we are very grateful. Through these people, many babies will receive warm clothing," Mrs. Grant said.

Principal Extolls Use Of New Projector In Classes

K. G. Robinson, principal of the Pender Island school, is enthusiastic about the use of films in the school. The projector, purchased through the efforts of the P.T.A. last year, is in constant use, the films are received each week. Social studies and science, art, music, and everything the student reads about in his text books, explained graphically, on the screen, with sound, become real and interesting, Mr. Robinson explained.

"Rural schools, which lack apparatus, and all the equipment for experiments, can, in a large measure, overcome this handicap through the use of films, and the pupils love it," Mr. Robinson concluded.

The Pender Island P.T.A. is presently raising money to purchase a larger screen, a 50 by 50 in., which is the largest portable obtainable.

NEW PARCEL POST RATES FOR MARCH 1

The post office department increase in domestic parcel post rates will take effect March 1.

For example, the new rate on a one-pound parcel to a destination in the same province will be 23 cents and a parcel weighing nine pounds to a destination in the same province will cost 97 cents.

The department pointed out that parcel post rates have not been changed since 1951.

Increased transportation costs, salary adjustments, and other cost increases have brought the post office department to the point where it is suffering heavy losses on its parcel post operation. A substantial deficit on overall departmental operations is also anticipated for the coming year, due in considerable measure to recent salary increases for postal employees, totalling $13.7 million a year, while the operating surplus of the department last year was less than $2 million.

The newspaper is convenient; it may be consulted at a time most convenient to every member of the family.

BIG FAMILY MACLEOD

Celebration At Royal Oak

By D.L.H.
On Friday night, Feb. 3, the birthday dinner of Clan MacLeod was held at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. Toasts were drunk to The Queen and Chief Flora MacLeod of MacLeod. President Kenneth MacLeod read letters and telegrams from the chief of the "family".

Dame Flora, with her daughter, Mrs. Wolrige-Gordon, is in New York, attending a banquet celebrating her 83rd birthday. All over the Commonwealth are gatherings of MacLeod clansmen and the same happy feeling was apparent in the Victoria gathering.

A birthday card, signed by all those present was sent off to the chief. Several new members and guests attended the dinner and were welcomed by Kenneth MacLeod. Members and guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, from Saskatchewan; Mr. and Mrs. James MacLeod, of Beaver Lake Road, Royal Oak; Mrs. Derman (MacLeod) and Miss Pearl Kinnaird (MacLeod), daughter of well known old-time residents of Royal Oak. Also attending as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ross, Estevan, who came from Scotland during the last summer. They are noted weavers. Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and the Queen Mother purchased Mr. Ross's tartans.

After dinner, Mrs. Macdonald entertained the party with interesting slides of her recent visit to Portugal. Particularly so, in view of the rebel piracy onboard the "Santa Maria". Mrs. Macdonald expressed the opinion, gathered during her stay in Portugal, that, politically, things were peaceful and the populace well fed and happy with no evidence of malcontent.

A few Irish and English slides added interest to the evening's entertainment, and the party broke up with renewed thanks to Mrs. Macdonald proposed by Major Charles MacLeod, honorary vice-president.

MOUSE ROARS IN VAIN

Veteran Of Communist Rule Sees Co-existence Only Answer To Threat Of Future Nuclear War

By KLAUS MUENTER

Life has found its normal course again in the Grand Duchy of Fenwick.

The friendly ruler of the small, imaginary country drives her vintage automobile once more over the pleasant country roads. The terrible Q-Bomb, stolen from the powerful United States by a handful of Fenwick bowmen, is still the threatening factor to the big powers.

Wisely guarded in the Grand Duchy, the bomb forces every single country in the world to be peaceful and to show its best intention of understanding co-existence. That is the end of a filmed political satire recently shown in the local movie theatre at Sidney, "The Mouse That Roared".

It does not happen too often that a film gives cause for deeper thought, creating philosophical analysis of an acute problem of world-wide fear and confusion.

There is no doubt in my mind that many of the patrons leaving the theatre after the show wondered and wished a Grand Duchy of Fenwick would exist to guard the most terrible weapons and to force all big powers on our planet to exercise utmost consideration and mutual understanding for each other.

TWO MISSIONS

The comedy accomplished two significant missions—it provided much amusement and it provoked thought. It also left the comforting feeling that one of our greatest threats can be channelled to serve a useful purpose.

Another feature of this film, perhaps not appreciated by too many people, was the fact that the hilarious screen play could be produced by an American company poking fun at its own government.

In democratic countries of the western world people are apt to take virtues such as, personal freedom, freedom of movement, freedom of the press and to a considerable extent freedom of the film industry too easily for granted.

We are so indescribably fortunate to be able to live in one of these democracies where all these freedoms are continuously exercised. Having spent almost five years in Russia, the country where communism was most successful, and having originally come from a country which is ruled by a communist government, East Germany, I am fully aware that nothing in this world may be taken for granted.

UNTHINKABLE

In this latterly mentioned land, as well as in all countries behind the distinct line between east and west, a political satire ridiculing the government is absolutely unthinkable. It would be considered as a threat against the regime and without exaggeration such production would be termed as treason.

For people who have never had any connection with the basic rules of communism and who all their lives experienced nothing but democracy, the matter-of-fact suspension of all individualism is certainly hard to comprehend—if it can be understood here, at all.

However, the fact remains that infiltration of the Marxist ideology may be fatal to any democracy if it is fostered by rising unemployment and general discontent. Nevertheless, for an observer who involuntarily went through several stages of communism it is not easy to understand how, in a country like Canada, a group of people can waste its efforts to follow a system which not only restricts every personal freedom very harshly, but also brings evil malcontent.

NO APPLICATION HERE

These people do not realize and perhaps never will, that this ideology had certain advantages for the working mass in Russia but never could find a satisfactory application in the free western world.

Although people from our hemisphere only too easily forget the bloody and cruel facts of the Russian Revolution when they praise the accomplishments of communism, they at least recognize to some extent the dreadful outcome of Marx' idea in the puppet countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Russian publications in Canada, advertising the glorious results of their country are indeed impressive. With convincing competence they show the reader success. Nevertheless they are not complete. They never unveil some of the many shortcomings of their system and purposely they keep silent about the depressing symptoms.

NATURAL REACTION

In the Soviet Union communism became the natural reaction after centuries of despotic domination. The state grew from the torn rump of the czaristic empire and found its path through many drawbacks and difficulties.

After the world's irony of destiny in 1917, when Imperial Germany helped Lenin and his companions to cross her country to overthrow the provisional government of the Russian minister Kerenski, a murderous turmoil followed. Generations since then grew up and were educated in the spirit of Marx and Lenin.

The western world might as well accept the fact that there will be no peaceful major change in the interior policy of that country. Even an assimilation, somewhat approaching our own way of thinking, is improbable and to ease the dangerous tension between the great power blocks only one solution is left—mutual understanding.

FORGET PAST

Forgetting any hatred from the past and willing to find a new beginning, based on faith and trust, east and west can reach the platform of peaceful co-existence without changing their basic, interior structures.

The vast majority of people in the democracies has only a vague idea how undesirable the communist rule is in the satellite countries. The significant question, "Why", is only answerable if one takes the trouble to analyze the conditions behind the Iron Curtain.

Not unlike Hitler's regime in pre-war Germany, the communist rulers in the puppet states apply reckless force to uphold their petty dictatorships. Broadcasting some successful ventures, Moscow's representatives suppress the freedom of their people, keeping them in complete subjection.

A web of informers spans the continents, to ferret out malcontentment and only too often unfortunate who become victims of this service are thrown into prisons or are condemned to live in even greater misery. Trains from East Germany approaching Berlin, the last bulwark of the free world in Eastern Germany, just to mention one single example, are frequently raided by armed Volkspolizei (people's police) who swarm over the railway cars to find suspects trying to flee the terror-land country.

200,000 IN 1960

In 1960 alone, 200,000 people from Eastern Germany escaped into the freedom of Western Germany. Most of these men, women and children abandoned everything, leaving their homes, never to return.

What kind of ideology must protect itself against the fleeing of disturbed and highly dissatisfied people? For someone who is well acquainted with such system it is tragically ridiculous to learn that these satellite countries must protect themselves against capitalistic invaders.

Many of the border lines are well marked with barbed-wire fences, dotted with watch towers, and only very primitive minds can take them as symbols of progress.

However, no one in the free world should make the mistake of identifying the many oppressed people in the countries "beyond" with these methods of terror.

There is no greater enemy of this system than those who are forced to live under it. There is no better way to compete peacefully with the Marx-doctrine than to give a truthful and fair description of its various aims and accomplishments.

Beyond any doubt communism has gained more and more territory by force since 1945, but it is a question whether its ideologies are finally accepted voluntarily by the people.

Free elections in these countries, which so far have been refused by their dictators, would reveal the true facts.

Policy of outlawing communism in the western world certainly is not the answer. Only by peaceful competition will this planet gain stability again. More important than victory of one of the paramount ideologies is the survival of mankind.

The U.S.A., as well as Russia, might as well accept the fact that without reasoning no country in this world will escape the destiny of total destruction.

There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that no people on earth long for another war. Our fate is based entirely on the big leaders' ability to use their powerful instruments of the atomic age.

Health Council Launches New Program This Year

Council Hears Reports On Various Activities In 1960

Annual meeting of the North Saanich Health Council was held in the Sidney elementary school on January 31, when members of 15 local organizations were present.

Reports of the various committees, given in detail below, show rewarding results for the year 1960, and the council has requested the continued support of the community for the coming year.

After two years of public information the council decided to make the introduction of a home bedside nursing service its big project for 1960.

Various Ratepayers' Associations in the area were contacted and offered their support. Together with the active co-operation of the various organizations represented on the council formal application was made to the minister of municipal affairs to have the unorganized area of North Saanich established as a nursing care area under Sec. 3 of the "Local Services Act".

The application was granted and is now known as "North Saanich Local Area".

SEPARATE PLEA

The Village of Sidney made separate application at the same time and the service was started on July 1, 1960.

This service, which is limited to two-hour treatments weekly at the request of the attending doctor, is carried out free of charge by the Public Health Nurses. The cost to the area is 10¢ per capita per year, levied through general taxes. A total of 99 home nursing services were rendered during November and December. The council feels that these figures justify the implementation of the service.

In 1959 an arthritis treatment room was opened in Sidney and the work has gone steadily forward. All treatments are given by Mrs. Pedersen of Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society of Victoria, for which patients must have a prescription from their doctor.

Any person wanting further particulars may contact Mrs. Pedersen at EV 2-3622.

An average of seven patients per week have benefited from this service. Transportation is available for patients when needed, and help is provided at the treatment room. The council has also been needed, and the upkeep for laundry and other items.

DENTAL CLINIC

The work in the dental clinic was increased from 36 in 1959 to 56 in 1960, and this work has been handled by Dr. J. D. Butler as in former years, and Dr. Alexander Gray who has recently come to Sidney.

Apart from the physical work, an active educational campaign was launched to bring to the attention of all parents of young children the importance of the first teeth. Children are now taken in the clinic from three years of age, up to and including grade one.

LOAN CUPBOARD

A very worthy and active branch of the council is the Red Cross loan cupboard.

This service is handled by the Delegation of the I.O.D.E., and the storage room for same has been supplied free of charge by A. G. Rodgers of Rest Haven Hospital. A second vaporizer was added this year. The 47 articles in the cupboard have been out almost constantly, at the rate of about 15 per month.

As in past years the council has taken care of all first aid arrangements at the Sidney Day fair, including a comfort room for mothers with young babies.

In addition to lending its support to the settlement of health problems the council has also shown films at two of the five regular meetings.

WILDLIFE and FORESTS

By BILL MYRING
INCREASING RESOURCE

Despite efficient forestry planning and wood utilization, less than one-half of the wood in every tree we cut down is converted to a final product; even though there have been advances in recent years in manufacturing processes, waste wood utilization and by-product production.

Consider the future when we will have complete utilization of our wood resources and when the eight billion acres of forest lands in the world will be managed to yield a perpetual crop of wood.

Wood is a perpetual, and under proper management, an increasing resource.

PURPLE EYES LURE FISH

The fact that some marine fishes go upstream to spawn in fresh water is due, claims the Better Vision Institute, to the type of purple in their eyes. Apparently this pigment has an affinity for fresh water at certain times of the year. The institute admits, however, that the knowledge of eyesight in general is extremely limited. The purples mentioned above also control our night sight or night blindness. Some people can enter a dark room and within minutes have perfect vision. Others have to wait a half-hour or longer for their eyes to become accustomed to the darkness. Still others may never have good night vision.

MEN KNOW MORE THAN WOMEN

"What do people know about forest protection?" Southern California researchers

Members have supplied help at the well baby and polio clinics twice monthly as requested.

Cash donations have been received from the Knights of Pythias Lodge, Rotary Amns, I.O.D.E. and R. S. Johnson, of Saanichton. Donations of supply articles were acknowledged from the W.A. to the Canadian Legion, Mrs. E. W. Hammond, Mrs. F. Derry, and Mrs. F. Baker.

All cash donations are used to purchase needed articles not supplied by the Red Cross for the loan cupboard, as well as supplies for the arthritis treatment room.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

Having established the home bedside nursing service in 1960, the council is now aiming its sights on augmenting this service with a voluntary help service to be known as "The Good Neighbors of Sidney". The purpose of this service is to provide needed help in emergencies brought on by sickness, all calls to be approved by a screening committee with the public health nurse acting as consultant. The convenor of this project is Miss Jean Christie, and it is hoped to have the active co-operation of the women's organizations of the area, thus enabling the council to have the plan in action in 1961.

In closing the council expressed its gratitude to the organizations which supported it in 1960.

Next regular meeting will be on March 28, when the annual dues of $1 will be collected. Individual membership is welcomed, as are visitors at all meetings.

Members conveyed their thanks to Dr. A. N. Beattie, director of the Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit, and to the public health nurses for their help and guidance.

Marauding Dogs In Hunting Areas May Be Destroyed

Warning to dog owners against allowing their animals to run at large in game hunting areas on Vancouver Island has been sounded by Game Inspector R. W. Sinclair in Victoria.

The Game Act states that, "any dog found running at large within the boundaries of a game reserve or found hunting or running any animal of the deer, mountain sheep or mountain goat family, may be destroyed by any game warden or constable in view.

In view of the current situation in some areas of Vancouver Island, strict adherence to the law will be observed, Inspector Sinclair said.

Nearly all of a newspaper's circulation is concentrated in its market area—without over-extending into less promising markets.

Winter Brings Hazards To Homes As Fire Threatens

Fire losses during the winter months are the heaviest of the year, and the Canadian Underwriters' Association urges home owners to help keep down the fire toll. The association lists a number of precautions which may be taken to reduce the danger.

Check the basement furnace room. Remove any paint tins, oily rags, old newspapers, broken furniture or other rubbish that may be near the heating plant and if the furnace burns coal, be sure ashes are deposited in metal containers, and that the containers are emptied frequently.

If the gas or oil heating equipment has been functioning erratically, call the service man now to inspect it and put it in proper running order. Flue pipes, vent connectors, gas vents and chimneys should have been inspected at the beginning of the heating season. If they have not been inspected, check them now.

Check that walls, ceilings and partitions near boilers, stoves, furnaces and heating pipes are protected by noncombustible insulation. Always turn off portable oil or gas heaters before retiring at night and see to it that the fireplace is equipped with a metal fire screen.

African Drama And China Adventure Story At Gem

Outstanding African outdoor drama "Killers of Kilimanjaro" with Robert Taylor, Anthony Newley and Anne Aubrey in the leading roles, will be featured at the Gem Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 16, 17 and 18. The screen story was adapted from the book "African Bush Adventure" by J. A. Hunter and Daniel P. Mannix. The color production was filmed on location in Tanganyika, in the area of the scorched bush country and the famous Kilimanjaro mountain range. Mombasa, the former slave trading port, also was utilized for some of the film's exciting sequences. It is the story of a railroad engineer who, accompanied by his aide and a young woman trying to find her missing father, pushes his survey through untamed wilderness. Besides marauding tribes and perilous animals in this area, the engineer's mission is menaced by a powerful Arab slave trader who is determined to stake a claim to the railway so he can more speedily transport slaves from the interior of the country.

Another Rank Organization release, "Ferry to Hong Kong" will be presented by the Gem on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 20, 21 and 22. Curt Jurgens, Orson Wells and Sylvia Syms star in this fast moving drama of human conflict. The color production was filmed in Hong Kong and on a laid-up cargo ship. The screen play tells the story of an exile from Austria who drifts through life on a tide of drink and cynicism and who finally finds a new life when his exile-home, the ferry boat from Hong Kong to Macao is sunk in the treacherous domain of the pirate Yen. While Curt Jurgens gives a vivid portrayal of the Austrian exile, Orson Wells impersonates the pompous and comic captain of the ferry. Also starring in the exciting action drama are Jeremy Spencer, Noel Purcell, Margaret Withers, John Wallace, Ray Chio, and others. Produced by George Maynard the adventure film was directed by Lewis Gilbert.

Big Program Envisaged By B.C. Electric For This Year

British Columbia's economy will be bolstered in 1961 by B.C. Electric capital expenditures totalling $53 million. The capital program will provide millions of manhours of employment for British Columbians. It will also ensure a plentiful supply of electricity and natural gas to homes, firms and industries.

Over $39½ million (about 75 per cent of the total) will be spent to make more electricity available for the future and to provide new facilities to bring power to B.C.E. customers on the lower mainland and southern Vancouver Island.

Biggest single expenditure in 1961 will be $13.3 million on the company's mammoth Burrard thermal generating station, under construction on the north shore of Burrard Inlet near Port Moody. First of six 211,000 horsepower generating units will be officially placed in service early in 1962.

EXTENSION

Main structure of the Burrard plant, completed in 1960, was built to house four generating units which will meet expected growth in power requirements till the late 1960's. The plant can be extended to house two additional generators if more attractive sources of power are not available by then.

Over $5.3 million will be spent to extend the company's gas system to handle growth during 1961.

Another $2 million will be spent to expand the company's freight, urban transit and interurban bus transportation facilities.

Extension of joint facilities for electric, gas and transportation services and other miscellaneous capital expenditures will cost a further $6 million.

Modern Etiquette

BY ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it proper to breathe upon one's eyeglasses in public when one is cleaning them?

A. No. In the first place, try to avoid cleaning the eyeglasses in public, and above all, the act of holding them in the open mouth and exhaling upon them. If absolutely necessary to clean them in the presence of others, try to wipe them without resorting to this last offensive method.

Q. When passing the plate for a second helping, should one hold the knife and fork in the hand or place them on the table?

A. Neither. The knife and fork should be left on the plate.

Q. A business letter be a good closing to a business letter when one wishes to be as informal as possible?

A. "Sincerely yours" is the accepted form.

Q. When a girl has spent a weekend in another girl's home, to whom should she address her "bread and butter" letter?

A. This letter may be addressed to her friend, but she certainly should include a message of sincere appreciation to the girl's mother, who usually deserves much of the credit for a pleasant visit.

Q. In restaurants where tartar sauce is served in little paper cups on the plate with the fish, how is this eaten?

A. You can either transfer a small portion to the fish with your fork, or you can remove a quantity of the sauce with your fork and place it on your plate.

Q. Should the bride who is being married in a suit or travelling costume carry a bouquet of flowers?

A. More appropriate would be a corsage of orchids, gardenias, or any flower that suits her fancy.

Q. Is it all right for a hostess to serve her guests with the same dish she has served them on a former occasion?

A. This is quite all right, and particularly if she knows they enjoyed it.

Parents Mark Founders' Day At North Saanich High School

Brief Founders' Day ceremony commemorating the beginning of Parent-Teacher Associations and Home and School Clubs was conducted by President Mrs. W. R. Orchard at the recent regular meeting of the North Saanich High School P.T.A.

Lighting a large candle in the centre of a lovely cake was Mrs. A. W. Aylard, first president of the pioneer P.T.A. of this district. Following her were presidents and past presidents lighting smaller candles in honor of their P.T.A.'s which were formed as the district and number of schools increased.

Business of the meeting included a brief discussion regarding the wearing of a uniform type of apparel by high school students. This question is one that will be discussed at the convention to be held in North Surrey at Easter. A questionnaire for students to ascertain their reaction was suggested, and Principal D. E. Breckenridge commented that to enforce the wearing of any uniform at school, it would be necessary to have it incorporated into the B.C. Schools' Act.

BASKETBALL

The principal's report included mention of the basketball tournament just completed by the boys in competition with Royal Oak and six Victoria high schools, and the girls' tournament, the island finals of which will be held at North Saanich high school on February 25.

The annual variety concert presented by the P.T.A. as the big money raising event of the year will take a new form this year. "A Night in Hawaii" has been chosen as the theme and food, costumes and settings will provide a South Seas atmosphere in the school on April 29. Outside talent has been contacted to augment the local artists, and the Meistersingers have promised their support.

SOUTHERN TRIP

Program for the meeting was a most interesting collection of colored slides taken by Capt. C. R. Wilson on a recent trip to Fiji.
